

Rosepath Twill

By interrupting the pointed twill repeats with a thread on shaft 4, we obtain rosepath. The drawdown and a sample are below, both sides of the fabric.

The rosepath threading is used for figurative bound weave, a weft-face fabric with a judicious use of color to produce motifs representing animals, birds, human figures, etc.